

But before that let me tell you that Pytorch and Keras / Tensorflow, both frameworks are designed for building and training deep learning models. Tensorflow is developed by Google and Pytorch is developed by Facebook's AI Research (FAIR) lab.

PyTorch's core is written in C++ for performance, but it provides a Python interface for ease of use.